Principal Investigator. 535,000 ISK, funded by Bridge to the Future – BTF ("Gesher La Atid"), a not-for-profit organization.

I initiated this research in order to develop an innovative idea that I am working on over the past few years: to build an integrative model for local strategic planning based on spatial capital assets (social, cultural, economic, organizational, political, and physical). This model will assist in defining a municipality's capital profile and provide policymakers with development assessment tools.

This research exposes the contributions that the Technion has made over the years to Israel's economy, security and society and to the wellbeing of humanity in general through its graduates. My role was to conduct a survey among Technion graduates and to prepare a scientific report to the Technion management.

(4) 2009–12 "Social Justice and Equal Opportunities in an Era of Urban Sprawl" Principal Investigator. 194,000 NIS, funded by the Israel Science Foundation (ISF).

In this research project I converted the abstract notion of theoretical justice into an empirical examination, in which the social justice implications of urban sprawl can be better understood and measured.

Pierre Bourdieu's capital theory served as the theoretical basis, into which I introduce the environmental amenities of each of the urban and suburban entities.

Co-Principal Investigator (with Prof. Daniel Shefer). $ 85,600, funded by the Israel Academy of Science and Humanities

This research presented an overview of the dynamic changes in the character of research conducted at the universities, financed by industry. We also examined policies, rules and regulations adopted by universities to protect their economic and academic interests.

(11) 2001-02 "IFISE – Israel Financing Innovation Schemes for Europe"

Co-Principal Investigator (with Prof. Daniel Shefer) $ 50,000, EU funded research project under the Fifth Framework Programme.
